NO BULLETIN IN JANUARY

Because students and faculty members will be off the campus during Christmas vacation, and busy with semester examinations when they return, the WNAD bulletin will not be issued for January. However, for the most part, the January schedule will follow that of December, so be sure to keep this issue for use during January. In February, we will bring you a host of new programs for the spring term.

PROGRAM NOTES

This month WNAD brings you a wealth of informative programs for your "all day good listening" including several using Christmas themes. The musical programs have been especially planned for the Christmas season, and during Christmas week Handel's famous oratorio, "The Messiah," will be featured on the Morning Concert program. The special Christmas Day program is outlined on page 15. May we remind you that daily sign off time for December is 5:15 p.m. Keep tuned to 640 on your dial for the southwest's oldest educational radio station.

We ask you to be patient until such time as WNAD is operating on its new transmitter and antenna, 640 on your dial, about January 1, 1949.

Christmas Greetings

Once again it is our great pleasure to send Christmas and holiday greetings to all of our listening friends in Oklahoma, Texas, Kansas and Arkansas. WNAD is now 28 years old. Never before in the long and colorful history of the broadcasting service of the University of Oklahoma has there been such a response to programs broadcast as during the past year. For a New Year's present to the people of Oklahoma, we are hoping to be able to inaugurate our FM service, WNAD-FM. WNAD will have a new transmitter and Transmitter Building. The WNAD and WNAD-FM tower will have one hundred feet of additional height. All this plus extensive plans for one of the finest radio centers in the southwest makes all of us enthusiastic about the coming year.

We hope you will enjoy our Christmas Day broadcasts which by now have come to be a tradition with us. And during the coming year, we do hope that you, our listening friends, will tell all of your friends and acquaintances about WNAD.
